Assistant City Manager Clifton called artist CJ Rench to discuss the latest renderings of the art for Town Center Plaza. Mr. Rench described each rendering of the native wildflower sculpture to commissioners. He mentioned to the group that the second drawing of flowers would be able to have an LED light in the center of each. The group discussed which type of wildflower and what quantity of flowers would be best for the budget. Commissioners told CJ Rench that they would like a model of each rendering. Commissioners agreed on a rust color for the stems of the flowers. They also agreed that they liked the blue color of the flowers. Chair Ryan discussed different ways they could acquire more money for the project, such as applying for grants.
