Construction work on 236th Street SW has shifted from the north to the south side of the roadway. Drivers, pedestrians and transit users should expect similar conditions associated with current traffic control (flaggers and occasional short-term detours) while using 236th Street SW.

During the initial phase of the construction, city staff have been listening and working with residents to address concerns on traffic safety and mobility. Communication and support is the best approach to help all drivers and pedestrians.

Weekly travel advisories on all construction projects throughout the city are provided online at www.cityofmlt.com/208 (traffic alerts). Main Street updates are shared on social media and are included in the City Manager Weekly Update. These updates are provided to keep the community informed about the type of traffic modifications that are in place and where they are located.

The city encourages residents, their families and visitors to ask construction and traffic control workers, as well as on-site city inspectors and engineering staff, for help when walking, driving or parking within the construction work zone. The city and its contractor are committed to ensuring public safety and to help people feel comfortable within the work zone by providing direction or escorting them through an area they are uncomfortable with. Please flag one of them down and let them know how they can help.

The city would like to thank all residents and visitors for their patience and commitment to driving safely within the work zones. Please continue to drive slowly and cautiously through the work zones and detour routes so that we can maintain a safe and protected environment for all users within the public right-of-way.
